Residential on 0.13 Acres

BROOKLAND, Washington, DC

A Brookland Classic Reimagined

This timeless 100-year-old Craftsman bungalow captures the best of historic character and modern living in one of Brookland's most desirable locations. With its classic proportions, southern exposure, and abundant natural light, the home exudes warmth and authenticity from the moment you arrive. Period details — including original trim, hardware, doors, and hardwood floors — speak to its rich history, while tasteful updates bring a fresh sensibility perfectly in tune with the home's architectural spirit.

The inviting main level flows effortlessly to a large, fenced backyard designed for both relaxation and entertaining. A spacious deck overlooks a beautifully reimagined outdoor space complete with a fire pit, privacy fencing, and a regraded double parking pad with EV charging - a rare find in the neighborhood. The original wood front porch offers the ideal private perch.

Inside, thoughtful renovations since 2019 have elevated both form and function. Major systems have been modernized, including upgraded electrical, plumbing, and an on-demand water heater, all while preserving the home's original craftsmanship. The bright, stylish kitchen has been refreshed with new flooring, cabinetry, and appliances, balancing utility and design. A finished lower level provides additional flexible living or storage space, complemented by an outdoor shed for extra convenience. The unfinished attic, with its generous roof height, offers exciting potential for future expansion.

Located in the heart of Brookland, this home puts you just moments from neighborhood favorites like Primrose, Menomale and the neighborhood’s newest addition, The Harp. The weekly farmers market is nearby, with Metro access, schools, and the Metropolitan Branch Trail all close at hand. It’s a rare opportunity to own a beautifully updated piece of Brookland history where vintage charm meets modern comfort.
